How to print from your PC

Before starting, make sure you are on the EDUROAM network.
Go to Control Panel and select Devices and Printers.

Type in `\printer.dma.ucla.edu` in the top search bar.

A window will pop up asking for login credentials. Type in your DMA credentials. The Domain should read DMA. If it doesn’t, type in DMA\username in the username login box.
After logging in, you’ll go to a page with the Fisher and Spasky icons. Double click on both to connect automatically.
